How to be able to order a GEOVITAL toxin-free, antistatic, metal-free therapy mattress

Thank you for your interest in obtaining one of our mattresses. Our mattresses, designed to support health, have been available for over 25 years in Europe and exceed the European fire regulations in a non-chemical way. They may not meet the fire regulations for the USA, but as our mattresses are all made upon order as a 'One of a Kind' mattress, we luckily are able to delight you with one of our mattresses without having to lace it with chemicals.

Federal law states that if you wish to purchase a mattress that is exempt from testing under the Federal Standard for the Flammability of Mattresses, you can do so by acquiring a doctor's prescription (on prescription pad).

Any licensed medical doctor (MD), osteopath (DO) or chiropractor licensed or otherwise permitted to practice by any State of the United States can give you a simple prescription that states:

“Patient requires bed made without chemical flame retardants”

We require the original prescription to be kept on file at GEOVITAL. Please scan or make a photo of it first and email this to your consultant or GEOVITAL representative. Together with your payment, this will allow us to start production. Then please promptly mail the original to our office. Once this has been received, we can ship your mattress.

Once submitted a scan by email, please mail your original prescription to:
